Contestants.

The contest of the will of Gen. Brayton Ives was filed in the Surrogate's contrary to expectations, Mrs. Eleanor bate March 25.

The suit was filed in behalf of the married daughter, Eunice, wife of Walter E. Maynard, named as one of the executors of the will, who lives at 114 East Fortieth street, and the two unmarried daughters, Winifred and Francea Mrs. Maynard was on friendly terms with her father until his death, and it was not expected that she would be a party to the proceeding to break!

Legis of the establishment. They were placed on view yesterday and at once it was evident that the public interest in the sale was to be keen.

The sale of the library begins Tuesday evening, April 6; the procelains, furniture, &c., on the afternoons of April 8, and 10, and the collection of prints on April 12 and 13.

The Brayton Ives prints number over 1,000 and as they compared the sale was to be keen.

of $2,000 a year.

The daughters base their contest on the ground that their father was of unsound mind at the time the will was executed, on April 3, 1914, and that it was obtained by fraud and by the undue influence of persons unknown to them. If the daughters succeed in breaking the will they will divide the estate, esti-mated at more than $2,000,000, since their mother made a separation agree-ment with Gen. Ives in 1904 under which she waived her interest in his property and received a certain amount for her support during her lifetime.

The will gave the residuary estate, estimated at more than $1,500,000, to Yale University, and it is expected that the university, through its attorneys, will make every effort to uphold the

The daughter Winifred got nothing and Miss Frances Ives received an income of $2,000 a year.

April 12 and 13.

The Brayton Ives prints number over 1,000 and as they comprise the greatest tates, they will share the honors of the sale with the tracsures of Gen. Ives's library. The print sale will, in fact, be memorable not only as capping the interest of this season's auctions, but as being the most important that has occurred in this country. This result is being the most important that has oc-curred in this country. This result is due to the uniform excellence of the im-pressions. Gen. Ives apparently acousness shows also in his preference as a collector for the most finished and complete examples of the masters he collected.

Rembrandts Head List.

Although the list of engravers and etchers is a long one, with practically all of the well known names well repreall of the well known names well represented, the preponderant interest of Gen. LORD ROTHSCHILD

FIRST TO BECOME PEER

LONDON, March 31.-Baron Nathan Mayer Rothschild, head of the English branch of the great banking family and titular head of all the Rothschild connection, died at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at his home, 148 Piccadilly, W. He was the first Rothschild to be raised to the peerage of Great Britain.

An operation for the removal of the prostate gland was performed on Saturday. The funeral will be held on Friday at Willesden.

In addition to his great financial peace. Lord Ratherhild was extremely Particularly in Jewish circles is his loss felt, for he devoted circles is his loss felt, for he devoted much time and money to the poor of his faith. The labors which Lord Rothschild voluntarly assumed with the presidency of the British Red Cross, which within a few months raised fl. 500,000 ($7,500,000) for the wounded, are believed to have hastened his death. King George, Queen Mary and Queen Mother Alexandra were among the first to send condolence to the family. The Hon. Lionel Walter Rothschild. Lord Rothschild's heir, rejoined his regiment, the Royal Bucks Yeomanry, at the beginning of the war.

Lord Rothschild was in his seventyfifth year, having been born on November 8, 1840. Since the death of Baron Albert Rothschild of the Austrian branch of the family he had been the titular head of the Rothschilds and the guiding influence in the control of the family fortune, estimated at two bill-family fortune, estimated at two billions of dollars.

It is only occasionally, at such times, perhaps, as the death of a member of the family or the news that a vast loan has been negotiated with them, that persons on this side of the Atlantic pause to consider the extraordinary financial strength of the Rothschild family. No American family, no other European family, approaches the Rothschilds in prestige or possession. The European family, approaches the konschilds in prestige or possession. The Hirsches are believed to possess half a billion. The total possessions of the Beits, Wertheimers, Friedlanders and Barnatos are estimated at a billion dollars. The German house of Bleichroeder, the Sassoons, the Pereires, the Sterns and Goldsmids, the Compandos of Sterns and Goldsmids, the Comandos of the Ottoman Empire, the Monteflores— not one of these powerful hierarchies approaches the family of Rothschild.

The death of Baron Nathan Mayer The death of Baron standard Rothschild recalls, naturally, the origin of the family, its astonishing speculations, its curious and apparently harmless intermarriages, its spread to the control of the financial capitals of Eu-rope and its rise socially. The first of the Rothschilds was Mayer Amschel, the Rothschilds was Mayer Amschel, called Rothschild, who lived in the ghetto at Frankfort-on-the-Main. As he lay dying he called his five sons to his bedside (if you saw the play recently performed here, "The Five Frankforters," a play based largely on the story of the Rothschilds, you will have a notion of the family spirit) and commanded them to be loyal to the faith of Moses, to remain united to the end, to intermarry and to obey their on the present site at 130 West For-ty-fourth street will cost between $250.-000 and $300,000.
